MANY ATTEND GRADUATION EXERCISES

There were quite a good many attended the Commencement exercises of Grayling Mercy Hospital Training School for Nurses, that were held at the High School building last Thursday evening.

A beautiful and tasty arrangement of the fall garden flowers and autumn leaves mostly in the pink tints together with the class colors of green and pink made the stage very pretty for the occasion. "For God and Humanity" was the very fine motto chosen by the class and was portrayed in large letters across the back of the stage.

Very appropriate was the program that had been arranged for the pleasure of those present, opening with a selection by the Community orchestra, supervised by Miss Quackenbush, music teacher in our schools.

T. P. Peterson acted as chairman and after a few words of greeting in behalf of the Sisters of Mercy of the Training School, he introduced Rev. J. W. Greenwood who gave the opening address, that was much enjoyed by all. Following the next number which was another selection by the orchestra, Rev. Lieut. Col. Dunigan of Flint, who was the principal speaker of the evening gave the address to nurses. He began by telling something of Grayling and how he loved to come here as he did during the Michigan National Guard camp each summer. He spoke in tribute of the beautiful Au Sable and its surroundings and many were his words of praise for our community and its people. His address was very forceful and interesting. Fr. Dunigan is somewhat handicapped carrying his arm in a sling as the result of an injury he received in an airplane accident early in the summer.

Following Fr. Dunigan's address, Mrs. C. G. Clippert and Mrs. Roy Milnes rendered a duet very beautifully. The graduates then gave the Florence Nightingale pledge in a pleasing manner, following which Dr. C. R. Keyport presented them with their diplomas.

Mrs. Clippert, Mrs. Milnes, Miss Quackenbush and Miss Hermann composing a quartette rendered a beautiful selection that was well received, and the program closed with another selection by the orchestra.

Those present were invited to remain and enjoy dancing for a few hours, during which refreshments of ice cream and dainty cakes were served everyone who wished them by a committee from the Mercy Hospital Aid society who had charge of the arrangements.

The young ladies, who are members of the class are all well known to Grayling people and have the best wishes and congratulations of the people of the community. They are Miss Nina Sorenson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sorenson; Miss Louise Sorenson, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Sorenson; Miss Emma Hendrickson is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hendrickson and she also is a graduate of Grayling High School; Miss Sara J. Collier came from Bay City last January to finish her course having had most of her training at Mercy Hospital, Bay City. Her home is in St. Charles.

In all there have been 26 young ladies graduated from the local training school, which is an excellent record for so small a school.

On Tuesday evening preceding their graduation night, the members of the class and pupils were given a banquet at the hospital, which proved to be a very delightful affair.

They used to say that marriage was a lottery but about the only thing you have to be uncertain about now is the young lady's real disposition.

Class Day at Grayling High. Public Invited

Friday afternoon, October 5th, the students of Grayling High School will put on a program under the direct supervision of the Principal and other members of the faculty. This program has been planned to take the place of the customary contests between the various classes usually held at this time of the year, and also to provide opportunity for the students to work off a little of their surplus spirit and energy.

Each class will be represented in one or more of the various events planned for the afternoon. Rules and regulations have been prepared for each contest thus insuring safety and good clean sportsmanship at all times.

The first part of the program which will include the tug-of-war, rope tying contest, and the flag rush will be open to the public. The first event which begins at 3:30 in the afternoon will be the tug-of-war between the boys of the 7th and 8th grades. Following this will be a rope tying contest between the students of the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grades. Last but not least and perhaps the most exciting event of all will be the flag rush with the Sophomores and Juniors defending the green and white flag, placed on a pole twelve feet above the ground, against the Freshmen who shall endeavor to replace it by their green flag. The class or classes victorious in this event at the end of the specified time will have the honor of flying their flag on the flag pole at the front of the school building.

This is surely going to be one of the biggest and most exciting series of contests ever held in the history of Grayling High School. Every student is saving his strength and his voice in order to be able to do his bit Friday afternoon. We are looking forward to a large crowd of spectators from the city of Grayling. Come out prepared to cheer for the good old G. H. S. and help to make this a real day for the boys and girls who are defending their classes and their school.

The second part of the program, which includes a dinner and dance, will be open to the high school students and teachers only. The dinner is being planned by the students of the Senior class under the direction of Miss Lindstrom. The eats for the occasion will be furnished by the high school students. Immediately after the dinner, the losing teams in the contests held earlier in the evening, will have the honor of washing the dishes.

Everyone will then gather in the assembly room where they will be entertained by the Freshman class. This entertainment is to be provided by the members of the Freshman class under direction of Miss Richards.

Last of all, when all signs of the dinner given earlier in the evening, have been cleaned away, the students shall return to the gymnasium to dance to the music of the High School orchestra. 11:30 o'clock will bring the close of the big day and the students shall return home, tired, no doubt, but happy, in spite of defeat or because of victory.

Everybody out—high school students and townspeople. Don't miss the fun.

Doings of the Junior Class

Friday, September 21, was election day at Grayling High School, and we doubt if in the coming Hoover-Smith election, there will be a more spirited competition than there was in the political world in Grayling High.

A unanimous vote was cast for Mrs. Bogue as Junior Class Advisor, and we all feel sure that we will profit under her guidance in the coming year.

After some discussion Grace Parker was elected President; Margaret Warren, Vice President; Clara Bugby, Secretary; Elizabeth Matson, Treasurer.

Everyone was pleased with the election and hopes to do good work under the supervision of these officers during the coming year.

The Basket Ball call was issued and a large crowd appeared for practice. Practice is to be held only two nights a week for a while until cooler weather. This is just warming up for the regular season and no scrimmages will be held for a while.

Grayling High School will be represented by two teams, both with full schedule.

The Life of a Student

Let us compare the life of a student to that of a river with its many different stages. The first eight years are somewhat similar to each other, generally quiet and peaceful. Let us say they are spent in a lake.

Then quite suddenly the lake finds an outlet, and the adventures of the "Freshman River" begins. This Freshman river enters its new life as a small inexperienced stream, yet it conquers the many obstacles which obstruct its path with such vigor and determination that before long it becomes the more experienced Sophomore, over its first great adventure and ready to settle down to the important task of making its life more worth while. Thus it enters its new stage, the "Junior River," enlarging itself as it works along. The "Senior stage" is finally formed. At last the world-wide student stream flows triumphantly into the engulfing water of the great sea of life.

Cooperation

Our school year of "twenty-eight." I think you will agree, Will be the best year ever yet If the students work, you see.

I'm sure you all know how to do it If only you will vow, To get your lessons every day To holiday time from now.

It will make your tasks seem lighter Your lessons appear less hard If the students help the teachers and No precious time discard.

So listen, all ye young students, Take heed before too late. Form a great cooperation of nineteen twenty-eight.

Watch the Juniors This Year!

With Mrs. Bogue as class advisor, the Juniors are already thinking about the J hop, which they plan to make a bigger and better event than ever before.

Every Junior feels proud of having Mrs. Bogue as advisor, for we all know that she takes much interest in school life, especially the Junior class!

Basket Ball Girls, beware! The Junior girls still have their old team, which has won the inter class tournament for the last two years. "Member who they were? "Lib", "Bugs", "Mega", "Mel", "Nip", "Ele" and "Dot". Of course, we plan to take the championship again this year. We're not bragging, just proud!

Fire—a Fake Alarm

Friday morning everyone was surprised to hear the fire gong ring. Of course we all thought it was a "sure enough fire" because it was raining hard outside and surely no one would be cruel enough to send us out for nothing. But we were soon ordered back in and that noon Mr. Cushman said, "Now, you see what happens when someone monkeys with the fire gong." Next time any one wants to get everybody out, please pick out a nice day.

Tests! Tests! Tests!

Everyone must have a desire to find out how much we know, or perhaps don't know, for every teacher has been giving quizzes. I wonder how many of us will be disappointed when we receive our marks? Let's hope the teachers will be lenient.

The American History class is now studying by topics. They take one subject, i. e. Agriculture or Manufacturing, and trace it through from beginning to end. This is a very good plan as it helps the students to see the progress we have made along those lines, which, after all, is the real object in studying history.

The Chemistry class will start work in the laboratory next week. Miss Lewis is getting the material ready for use.

Students Warned to be in School on Time

Monday morning everyone was called into the Assembly. Mr. Cushman said that over 20% of the students in high school were tardy and if you were not in your classroom when the bell had stopped ringing you would have to stay forty-five minutes after school in the class to which you were late. The time has been changed to Western Union.

which may be obtained in the office or at the depot.

Thursday the Old Reliable orchestra played for the Exercises in the auditorium and dance afterwards. Several encores were requested of the St. Louis Blues. We consider ourselves very lucky in having with us Kendall Stinchcomb who has been playing the banjo at Bass Lake.

Miss Richards and the librarians are busy cataloging the many new books in our library. They have also sent for new shelves that were badly needed.

Leona Markby and Amos Hoelsi spent Thursday in Traverse City attending the fair.

A long line of students were waiting in Mr. Cushman's office to get the usual Monday morning tardy permits. "You must get up earlier."

News From the Grades

Mrs. Cushman's 6th A people are making maps of the valleys in the Pacific States. This helps them to get the location and importance well in mind.

The 6th B's have finished studying of the cotton belt with what they thought, a real hard exam afterwards.

The 4th A and 5th B room has been divided into two teams. Each team is working hard to gain a point. The object is to brush the teeth regularly. So far the 4th A's are ahead. They have 41 points, the 5th B's have 40 points. This is quite a close score for the first week.

Friday afternoon the 4th and 5th grades had a spell down. Elsie LaMotte, a 4th grader out spelled the whole room. That's better than the high school students can do—it's an actual fact.

Concerning spelling, a new practice has been introduced. When a pupil misses a word he must stay after school and get it. This law concerns the 4th and 5th grades.

The 4th A and 5th B people, especially Fred and Tom Welsh, are working hard to decorate their rooms. They have been painting old flower pots and are putting flowers in them. They look real nice.

BRAKEMAN KILLED BY OWN TRAIN

Edward, better known as "Jack" Ray, was instantly killed here late Saturday night by a Michigan Central train. Ray was the brakeman for the train.

Nobody seems to know just how the accident occurred. One theory offered is that he may have slipped off the footboard of the locomotive.

The locomotive ran over his body, which was, terribly mangled. Ray was 25 years old and resided at 711 Blend street, Bay City, where the remains were taken for interment.

GRANGERS ASK FOR AGRICULTURAL AGENT

STATE AND FEDERAL GOVTS PAY $2,400 OF SALARY

Mr. O. P. Schumann,

Editor of the Avalanche.

Dear Mr. Schumann:

Some of us have been seriously thinking of the need of a County Agricultural agent in Crawford County. We believe that the majority of the people of the county, and especially the farmers, are in favor of a county agent.

The most serious objections of those who are opposed to the maintenance of a county agent seems to be the cost of same, thinking that the taxes are materially raised by so doing.

But as I understand it there is a budget appropriation of $2,400 from the state and the Federal Government per year which is paid whether we have a county agent or not.

And as we pay our portion of State and Federal taxes, we are paying our share towards a county agent whether we benefit from it or not.

I believe the President has recently signed a bill making it possible for every county in the United States to have a county agent if they so desire.

The amount that our county would have to raise for expenses would be approximately about $1,200 to $1,500. A comparatively small amount for each property owner to pay in comparison to the benefit received from the services of a good county agent.

Some of the benefits obtainable are as follows:

1. A meeting place for farmers to talk over farm topics—to discuss methods of better farming.

2. A reliable person, versed in the affairs of the county of whom people, who contemplate buying property in the county, may obtain information.

3. A source of information—in regard to obtaining bulletins on certain subjects relative to farm life.

4. A good authority on Condition of the soil, soil testing, the weeding, breeding and feeding of live stock, fertilizers and many other problems that confront the farmer.

5. Someone to cooperate with the farmer to bring into the county limestone, fertilizer and certified seed.

6. Someone to oversee the experimental farm where different crops may be tried out, and the effect of certain soils and fertilizers on same.

I am sure we can all think of other benefits to be derived from the County Agent's office.

Some of us are rather green yet at the farming game and are many times grateful for assistance. We don't know or claim to, all there is to be known on the subject, and while the county agent is probably not infallible, yet he can oftentimes render valuable service if we go to him for it. Of course we cannot expect to keep absolutely away from him, and his office and then complain that he's no good, or only an added expense to the county; if we expect to reap any benefits from the money we have thus expended.

I know that several times since we have been without a county agent that we have been put to some trouble and expense which we could have avoided if the services of a county agent had been available. For instance in the buying of seed for spring planting we had to make a special trip—in fact two of them—to Gaylord for seed which if we had a county agent could have been obtained through him; and while there spent money for other things which would otherwise have been spent in our own county.

We have always found the County Agent to be ready and willing to help anyone that came to him to the best of his ability.

We would be glad to have the people of the County consider this matter, and weigh the benefits to be derived against the small amount of money required of each of us, and help us to again obtain a County Agent, thus helping our County to be progressive and alive instead of going backward.

Sincerely,
PEARL M. RABBITT,
In behalf of Crawford County Grange.

(ED. NOTE—We understand that had the arrangements been carried out for the continuation of the agricultural agent last summer that provision for office and car storage would have been made at the county building, thus cutting down the expense about $600 annually, thus reducing the cost to this county for maintaining an agent to from $800 to $200.)

YOUNG WIFE DIES SUDDENLY IN LANSING

Mrs. Erma Preston, wife of Lieut. E. L. Preston, pilot of the S. K. F. Airways Company, Lansing, passed away suddenly in that city Friday.

Mrs. Preston was formerly Miss Erma Craven of Frederic where she was born and grew to young womanhood. She was a graduate of Frederic High School, later taking a teacher's course at Central State Normal, Mt. Pleasant, where she gained a life certificate.

She taught in the grade schools of her home town and for some time was principal of the High School there. She was wed in 1925 to Lieut. Preston, who took his bride to Lansing to reside where she had since made her home.

Mrs. Preston's death was a severe shock to her parents and her many friends by whom she was greatly admired. The remains were brought to Frederic from Lansing Sunday morning and the funeral held Tuesday afternoon, with most everyone in Frederic and many from Grayling in attendance. Rev. D. Earle, pastor of the church there conducted the service and he was assisted by Supt. John Payne of the Frederic schools, who read a sketch of the young woman's life. Mrs. C. G. Clippert and Mrs. Roy Milnes rendered two selections very beautifully. During the services at the cemetery aeroplanes piloted by fellow fliers of Lieut. Preston flew low over the assemblage dropping roses onto the grave.

Surviving the young woman besides her husband and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craven is one sister, Miss Lola, all of whom have the sincere sympathy of many in their bereavement.

Those from out of town who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McDermaid and Dan McDermaid of Flint. Those from Grayling included the following: Mrs. Laura Wallace, aunt of the deceased; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cassidy, Joseph Cassidy, Mrs. Ada Knight, Miss Evelyn Lovely, Mrs. Minnie Daugherty, Mrs. Clarence Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Moran, Mrs. Forest Barber, Mrs. Nels Corwin, Mrs. Carl Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Quigley, Mrs. B. J. Callahan, Mrs. Alex LaGrow, Mrs. Liland Smock, Mrs. James Reynolds, Mrs. George Sheldon, Mrs. George Burke.

WHICH COMES FIRST?

Everything in a political campaign points to Election Day. All the calculations have to do with what this state, or that county, or this city, or that town will do on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November. Voting, voting, all is voting. And yet, you can't vote if you don't register.

Forget the election, therefore, until a month from now, and give some attention to registration. You'll feel like a fool if you walk up to the polls on November 6 and a hard-boiled clerk tells you, "Nothing doing—you didn't register!"

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy in our recent bereavement.
Mr. and Mrs. Harley Kennedy,

BIRDS PREY ON HATCHERIES

Lansing, Sept. 24.—Three species of birds are more or less active in the destruction of young fish, hatchery men have agreed. It is generally believed that the kingfisher, blue heron and the blackbird have an appetite for fish, particularly young ones that may be seized without trouble.

Of the three birds mentioned, the kingfisher is the worst killer. He makes no bones of his intentions and frequently he and his family will gather at hatcheries and they constitute a real problem. The State Conservation Department had one example of this bird's activities brought to its attention recently. At the trout propagation project located on Silver Creek in the Michigan National Forest near Tawas, the kingfishers made their presence felt with a vengeance. The caretaker immediately took steps to counteract the menace, using traps and guns to subdue the raiders.

Inasmuch as this particular pond was only about 200 feet long and located in a country that was dense with undergrowth, it was surprising that the birds should gather in large numbers. Those who witnessed the struggle waged were agreed that the news of the trout pond must certainly have come to the attention of all the kingfisher families in the state.

Where the kingfisher is not protected by the law, the blue heron falls under the migratory bird act and hence it is unlawful to destroy them. But the State is empowered by the Federal government to do away with the blue herons if they persistently hang around the hatcheries and try to gain their board from the supervised ponds. The heron, however, does not compare with the kingfisher as a bad actor, for his numbers are less and he has other sources of food that he relishes. The blackbird is caught in the act of raiding now and then but does not constitute a real menace. He takes up fishing only on occasion, probably as a form of recreation.

The kingfishers are taken in traps set on sticks near the water edge. When a kingfisher wants a meal he usually looks for a lily or pole extending above the surface of the water. Finding one, he takes up a position upon it and then scrutinizes the water for prey. When the fish puts in an appearance, he dives to the attack.

Traps are placed upon sticks near the water's edge. The kingfisher finds the stick an ideal place to light but when he plans down upon the prospective resting place, the trap ensnares him and another enemy of the young fish is removed.

Complaints are sometimes made by the humane societies and bird lovers that other feathered folk stray into these traps. Superintendent Westerman of the department's hatcheries has heard these complaints for years, but his records show that not more than two robins have ever strayed into the traps in a season and other kinds of song birds that may be found in such surroundings are not heavy enough to spring the snares.

RESCUE NOW POSSIBLE FOR TRAPPED SUB CREWS

According to a report from the Navy Recruiting Station, at Detroit, Michigan, successful tests have been made by the USS Falco, in using the "lung", a new breathing device, intended to enable men trapped in sunken submarines to escape to the surface with safety. Three Navy divers descended in a diving bell to a depth of 155 feet and returned safely to the surface using only the lung. This device consists of a ma-air supply and a mouthpiece through which atmospheric oxygen is supplied to the person making the ascent. Further experiments will be made soon and an attempt to escape from a sunken submarine will be tried. The S-Four will be used for this purpose. The lung was invented by F. M. Hobson, an engineer in charge of naval equipment and Chief Gunner C. L. Tibbals, U. S. Navy.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVANCEE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

Thursday, September 28, 1905

There was a light frost in spots Monday morning.

Miss Adelle LaVacher returned from Cheboygan for a visit last week.

Daniel Stephan has moved with his family to Newell, Tenn., where the Avalanche will find him every week.

Solon Holbrook and family came down from Mackinaw City last week for a visit with Grandpa Newman, and a rest.

Joe Kraus took the man Cook, who was convicted of assaulting him last week to the Detroit House of Correction for sixty days board.

Adam Sheets, adjudged insane at our last term of court was taken to the asylum at Traverse City, Tuesday by Sheriff Stilwell. He took Smith who was convicted of larceny, to Ionia last week.

G. Vallad was down from Maple Forest Monday. He reports all in his neighborhood practically out of the way of frost, and that but slight injury has been done.

The Goodfellow club met at the home of Mrs. Woodworth Tuesday evening this week to select a course of study for 1906 and 1907. It was decided to take Chautauqua Course as outlined in the magazine of that name. The 9th annual preliminary meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bates, Monday evening, Oct. 2nd.

boys, has been promoted until he is manager of the large general store at Waters. Grayling boys get there all right, and we are glad to note their advancement.

July 31st a warrant was issued against Ray Rotsford for the larceny of a watch from the section foreman at Lewiston. Sheriff Stilwell put the watch dogs out along the line, and he was caught by the officers at Saginaw Sept. 22d.

Deputy Sheriff Nolan went down after him Friday night and Monday he pleaded guilty in Justice Mahon's court, who thought sixty days in the house of correction would be about right.

President Waldron, Commander Dell Smith, Adj. Pond, Chaplain Ingerson and Comrades C. W. Wight and J. F. Wilcox were voted as the liveliest boys in the bunch at the Soldiers' dance.

The unqualified success of the reunion last week is largely due to the personal efforts of Comrades Forbes, Smith and Pond, who gave unlimited time and attention to every detail.

Johannesburg Items

Farmers are busy cutting corn and digging potatoes.

Mr. Dan Rankin expects to open his new livery stable next week.

Mr. John Rasmussen has been clearing the lots recently purchased from the Johannesburg Mfg. Co., on Birch street between Salling and Hanson Avenues. It will make a decided improvement in the residence part of our village.

Dr. Knapp now owns one of the finest driving teams in northern Michigan and says he doesn't have to take anybody's dust. Just what he needs in his business.

The merchants of Johannesburg are busy getting in large stocks of goods for fall and winter trade. Christmas is coming.

Mr. Slim Lewis has his new and beautiful residence on Maple street nearly opposite the residence of F. L. Michelson, nearly completed, and is counting the days when he can take possession.

Mr. Fred Larson is completing a modern up to date residence on the corner of Salling Avenue and Maple streets, opposite the residence of N. Soderberg. They expect to take possession soon.

Mr. J. K. Marx spent Sunday with his wife at Saginaw, returning Monday morning.

Mr. R. Hanson and N. Michelson of Grayling drove over from Gaylord on Friday of last week. They were delighted with the many improvements made in our village since their last visit here.

Mr. Hanson was the guest of his mother and brother John, and Mr. Michelson the guest of his son F. L. They took the flyer home on Saturday. Come again.

The trouble with a professional alienist is that he never meets persons. He only meets subjects.

And the trouble with a professional philosopher is that he tries to measure the infinity of human nature by the little tape-measure of his own experiences, his own limited observations, his own faulty powers of deduction.

The alienist doesn't say: "Here is a seemingly attractive individual. I shall cultivate him. He might make a good friend, a sprightly companion." Not at all. What inwardly he says is: "Here is a case. I shall study its inhibitions. It may constitute a new type. I might even be able to put it into an article or a lecture." He has a perfectly rotten time, going along through life. He's bound to have. Existence for him is a card-index system, a filing-cabinet full of neatly-labeled specimens, an orderly collection of disordered curios, and this world is a giddy cosmos wherein all creation is asked and each living creature—with the exception of himself and possibly a few of his brother-alienists—is mentally out of focus.

On the other hand, the philosopher says: "Ah, here now we have a condition. I shall apply to it the processes of my own peculiar and personal school of philosophy, and having arrived at a conclusion, will broadcast it forth as being positively the last word on that particular topic." He has a lovely time of it. Anybody who thinks he's infallible always does have a lovely time of it—while he lasts.

To be sure, the philosopher is like the run of us except that we apply to a concrete example our own little separate philosophies, whereas he, in an effort to take in the entire race, the whole universe, spreads himself out so thin that you can look right through him and see his back suspended.

A friend comes to us with a harassing private problem. He has reached that deplorable stage where he seeks advice for solving a riddle which, in the final analysis, only he can solve or should try to solve. He follows an ancient formula. He says to us: "If you were in my place what would you do about it?"

And glibly we answer: "Well, old man, if I were you I'd do this-and-so about it."

Now, what we should say, reversing the ritual, is this: "Well, if you were I, you—meaning I—probably would do this or that about it. But inasmuch as I am I and you are you, and I am what I am and you are what you are, with different impulses from mine, different heritages, different temperaments, different viewpoints, you'll have to handle this job your own way—and, may the Lord have mercy on your soul."

Now, Dr. Will O. Durant is a professional philosopher—God help him!—and Doctor Durant is credited with having said that a man past thirty is incapable of love; and I, as one of a selected group, am asked to answer him, not according to his own folly—if he be correctly quoted—but according to mine own.

So far as I am concerned, the task is a very simple one. But before I tackle it, permit me to repeat what the expert and scholarly Doctor Durant wrote in simplification of his large, bald, bold original premise.

He added this: "A man above thirty may go wild over a blonde 'chorine.' That is not love. Love is absolute devotion—the desire to give full service to another."

To which I would reply as follows: I don't know a blamed thing about it. I don't profess to know. I don't believe Doctor Durant knows a blamed thing about it either. I think he makes a mistake—but one common to philosophers—in setting up to know anything about it.

As I look at it, a man past thirty or a man of any age between the latter stages of adolescence and the early stages of senility, may be capable of love, or then again he may be incapable of love. Everything depends on what particular man you have in mind.

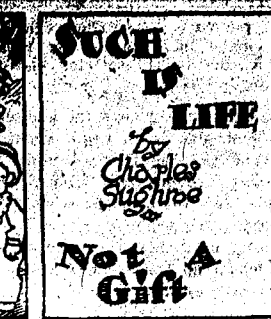

It's like this: You mention, say, a bird and instinctively each one of us thinks of a bird. One thinks of a wren, another of a robin, another of a parrot, a fourth of an ostrich. Each one of us is thinking of his own bird—the image of a bird which the mention of the word creates in his brain—not of the next fellow's bird.

You mention love, and to this one love means this thing and to that one love means another thing. And so on and so forth. I claim that if you think you are in love and think it hard enough, why then you are in love—only, it's your own special sort of love, which is not to be confused with any

The average man thinks that he is broad-minded because he is willing to forgive the wrongs endured by others.

MICHIGAN STATE TAX COMMISSION OFFICIAL ORDER

WHEREAS, the assessment roll for the Township of Grayling, in the County of Crawford and State of Michigan, for the year 1928, has heretofore been made by the Supervisor of said Township and reviewed by the regularly constituted Board of Review of said Township; and

WHEREAS, said assessment roll is now subject to inspection by the Commissioners of the State Tax Commission of the State of Michigan, or by any Commissioner of said Commission; and

WHEREAS, it has been made to appear to the Commissioners of the State Tax Commission that the real and personal properties in said Township, particularly the property owned by the Standard Oil Company, have not been assessed in compliance with law, and that said compliance cannot be secured except by a review of the said assessment roll; it is THEREFORE ORDERED, that in accordance with the provisions of Section 152 of the General Tax Law, as amended, said assessment roll containing the assessed valuations of the real and personal properties in said Township, shall be subject to review, and that the Supervisor of said Township of Grayling be and he is hereby required to appear in the Village Hall in the Village of Grayling, County of Crawford, Michigan, Thursday, October 4th, 1928, at 9:00 o'clock A. M., Eastern Standard Time, and have with him at the aforesaid place the assessment roll of the Township of Grayling for the year 1928; and it is

FURTHER ORDERED, that a public hearing be held in the Village Hall of Grayling Village, Crawford County, on Thursday, October 4th, 1928, commencing at 9:00 o'clock A. M., Eastern Standard Time, and that the owners of real and personal properties in said Township enter appearance at that time; and it is

FURTHER ORDERED, that the Commissioners of said State Tax Commission, or any Commissioner thereof, shall hear and determine as to the proper assessment of the real and personal properties located in the said Township subject to ad valorem taxation and will take such action as may be found in the assessment of said properties; and it is

FURTHER ORDERED, that due notice be given of said hearing in accordance with the provisions of law; and

C. While in Detroit Miss Polly will be the guest of her chum, Mrs. Earl Madsen (Alice Wakeley).

The Standard Oil Co. is doing a good service for aviation by painting aviation signs on their oil station buildings in towns along the railroads, pointing toward the nearest airport. These signs, whenever possible, give in large letters the name of the town, a circle with arrow pointing toward the airport and the number of miles. Grayling oil station has just completed painting its sign, which, of course, points toward the local airport, about a half mile away. This is fine service and is certain to be appreciated by the air pilots.

Rev. J. W. Greenwood has been re-appointed to the pastorate of the Michigan Memorial church of this city, just as it was hoped would be done by the members and others interested in that church. Rev. Greenwood has been giving his congregations most able, inspiring and instructive sermons, and his community service has been of the very best kind. He sets a fine citizenship example for everyone and one that may well be aimed at by the youth of our city; by whom he is held in high esteem. It is Grayling's gain to have him among us.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Keyport left Tuesday night to spend a few days in Detroit.

Mrs. Charles B. Johnson is in Kansas City, Mo., in attendance at the national convention of the Danish Sisterhood, as a delegate from the local order.

We have a set of Delco batteries for Delco system. We are offering them at a big bargain. Come in and let us show them.

Joe Smith has broken ground on the property located north of the Jappe Smith filling station for a rooming house. The foundation is about completed.

Herbert Gothro received the sad news Monday of the death of his sister in Cleveland, Ohio, and left that night to be in attendance at the funeral. Mr. Gothro and daughter Ellen had just returned a week previous from that place where they had been visiting his sister for two weeks.

Sigurd Johnson, who is employed as pharmacist in a drug store in Manistee has just received word that he has passed the state examination for pharmacists, which he recently took at Marquette. The examination is a lot more rigid than formerly and many of his fellow students failed to pass.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Darveau expect to leave for Detroit Saturday to spend several days with the latter's sister, Mrs. Masters. Mr. Darveau is enjoying a ten days vacation from his duties as agent for the American Express Co., at Grayling, and during his absence the place is being filled by Hugh Hannah of Midland.

The breaking of a fire in the boiler at the Hanson Hardware Co. store has left that place without heat for the past week. Manager Paul Ziebel says it wouldn't be hard to heat the store with one of their stoves if there was a chimney to use. As it is the clerks have to wear overalls and mittens while waiting on customers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Roberts, who have been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sojholm at Lewiston were in Grayling, guests of Miss Agnes Hanson yesterday enroute to Detroit where they will make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts had been residing in Fort Stockton, Texas, but have decided to take up their residence in Detroit.

Herbert Hoover spent over 600 million dollars in helping to relieve the hungry women and children in starving European countries during the World war and only money and credit have come to him for his administration. Records show that he even paid his own expenses. This is only one of the many big tasks that he has accomplished in his lifetime.

Sigwald Hanson, local manager and Don Reynolds, bookkeeper and salesman for the Michigan Public Service Company, attended a get-together meeting and banquet of the office employees of the Cheboygan district at Cheboygan last Friday evening. The meeting was held to arrange for the campaign of their new 8 per cent preferred stock offering to the public.

If you want to know what Grayling schools are doing, read the school notes each week. These are prepared by the classes in English, under direction of Mrs. Bogue. Editorial assignments are regularly made and the pupils are given credit for their work. Read them each week and keep in touch with what our boys and girls are doing in school. You will find their column very interesting.

J. C. McDonnell, local poultry farm owner submitted to an operation at Mercy Hospital Tuesday night at ten o'clock, it being a most urgent one. Mr. McDonnell is reported as resting quite comfortably at present.

Miss Irene McKay, supervisor at Mercy Hospital was in Lansing from Thursday to Monday, having attended a meeting of the State Nurses Association held there on Friday evening, as a representative from the newly formed Grayling district.

Tuesday afternoon at a special meeting of St. Mary's Altar society at the home of Mrs. Louis M. Kessler, the annual election of officers took place. Following the election and a social afternoon the hostess served a delicious lunch. The officers and those chosen to fill them for the coming year are as follows: President, Mrs. Marius Hanson; vice president, Mrs. Thomas Cassidy; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Harold Rasmussen. The retiring president, Mrs. Kessler, had a most successful year, working earnestly in the interest of the organization.

The promoters of the auto races at Gaylord that were to have been held the last day of the fair were all out of luck due to the heavy rains. They tried it again, dating Sunday, Sept. 23rd, when again rains spoiled the track and also the hope of the people to attend. No doubt the promoters must have suffered considerable financial loss. They at least showed themselves good sports and are not whining over their losses. They tried hard to give the people of Northern Michigan some real high class sport, which at least made them a lot of good friends for their efforts even tho they couldn't pull off the big show. We'll pull with you for better luck next time.

We don't know what we might add to the weather than that that is being said about town every day. Just about every imaginable epitaph has been applied to it that the English language will permit. September, usually a pleasant month, has presented rain every day with the exception of three. And for good measure last Sunday there was hail and snow and low temperature. Thermometers reached 30 above zero, which is low for this time of the year. The weatherman wasn't satisfied with this so he delivered on Tuesday what Rube Babbitt says was the biggest snow storm he has ever seen in September, and Rube has been around here for more than 50 years. This morning, just like a lot of others, was bright and looked promising but the day had hardly started before intermittent rains started. For a few minutes it would "just pour" and the next minute the sun would shine. Well, September was long gone, and we hope its successor, be more generous with its sunshine.

Farnum Matson of the Postoffice force is at Mercy Hospital nursing a badly bruised ankle and shoulder as the result of being hit by an automobile driven by Mrs. Walter Nadeau, Sunday night at about nine o'clock. The accident happened at the corner of U.S.-27 and Ogema street. Mrs. Nadeau, who was blinded by the lights of a car behind her did not see Farnum until she had struck him. She immediately helped him into her car and drove to a physician who later had him removed to the hospital. He is getting along nicely and will be able to be around in a few days.

$200 FOR SINGING CONTEST AT TOP O' MICHIGAN POTATO AND APPLE SHOW

The annual Top O' Michigan Town and County Choir and Chorus Singing Contest will be held at Gaylord on Friday morning, November 2, at 10 o'clock in connection with the Sixth Annual Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, according to R. W. Tenney, Director of Short Courses at Michigan State College, who has charge of these singing contests.

This contest, which is conducted under the auspices of the R. E. Olds Community Music Fund and the Michigan State College of Agriculture and Applied Science, is open to any choir from any open country church or town church in towns of 2,000 population or less (according to the 1920 census) or a chorus representing any rural organization.

The following rules and regulations are laid down by the committee in charge:

1. Each choir or chorus must consist of at least six singers and as many more as possible.
2. The participants must be regular choir or chorus members of the church or organization represented.
3. The leader and accompanist may or may not be members of the choir or chorus. If they are not members, they must not participate in the singing.

4. Two selections will be rendered by each contesting group.
5. The second to be "Jesus Christ Has Risen Today, Alleluia." (The first line is "Jesus Christ Has Risen Today, Alleluia" or in some hymn books, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today, Alleluia" or "Halleluiah." The music in each case is from Lydia Davidica. Each choir or chorus may use the words that happen to be in their hymnal.)

6. The scoring will be based on:

- | | |
|--|----|
| 1. General Expression | 50 |
| (a) Attack and Finish | |
| (b) Loud and Soft | |
| (c) Fast and Slow | |
| (d) Volume of tone | |
| (This covers a wide range of interpretation) | |
| 2. Pitch | 25 |
| 3. Enunciation | 25 |

The prizes offered will be the same as usual: viz: 1st $100, 2nd $50, 3rd $25, 4th $15, 5th $10.

This Singing contest is attracting more interest at the Potato Show each year. Last year there were ten entries from a radius of 100 miles. Several inquiries have already been made this year. If you have a church choir that falls under these rules and regulations plan now to enter and take part.

For further information and application blank, write to A. C. Lytle, Secretary, Top O' Michigan Potato & Apple Show, Gaylord.

A. C. Lytle.

Many fruits other than apples can be made into good vinegar. The United States Department of Agriculture has a bulletin on the subject.

SELECT POTATOES FOR SHOW NOW. PREMIUMS LARGE

The time to start selecting potatoes for the Potato Show is at digging time, according to A. C. Lytle, Secretary of the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show.

As the potatoes are picked up behind the digger those that are most nearly perfect should be placed in separate crates and carefully stored for later hand picking of the Show stock. If several bushels are selected in the field in this manner, it will be much easier to select the last thirty-two (1 peck) potatoes than if all the selecting is left to the bin. If the potatoes are dug by hand, the selection will be still easier. Hand dug potatoes are often less liable to mechanical injury and should make the best exhibits, all other things being equal.

The following suggestions for beginners are offered by Mr. Lytle for selecting potatoes for the Show; others may also profit by following them:

1. Be sure they are true to type.
2. See that they are uniform in size, shape, and color. Select early varieties about 7 to 9 ounces in size and late varieties about 8 to 10 ounces.

3. Be sure the lot are all of the same variety.

4. They should be free from disease, such as scab, black leg, fusarium wilt or late blight rot.
5. They should be free from internal discoloration and hollow heart.

6. They should be physically sound, clean, firm, bright, ripe and free from cracks, checks, or mechanical injuries.

7. Place in a cool, dry place for a week or more before wrapping and packing for shipment.

The same liberal premiums will be offered this year as were offered last year when the largest list of premiums were awarded that were ever offered. Over $650.00 in cash premiums will be offered in potatoes alone besides the special prizes, cups and special premiums. Over $1,600.00 will be offered for all premiums, prizes, and contests in both the apple and potato sections.

The premium books are now in the hands of the printer. They are sent to a large list, but it is impossible to send them to everybody unless they are requested. Your copy may be had by addressing the Secretary, Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, Gaylord, Michigan.

A. C. Lytle.

Lansing, Sept. 25.—Small scale trapping and banding operations on wild ducks are going on at the Conservation Department Game Farm located near Mason. A surprising number and variety of wild ducks are dropping into the pond. Wild black ducks are now feeding with the green headed mallards, which were raised on the farm. A pair of pin-tails was recently trapped and wood ducks are expected to show up on the water almost any day.

FREDERIC NEWS

Last Friday the community was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Edna (nee) Cray. The remains were brought to Frederic on Sunday morning and laid to rest beside her brother in Elmwood cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Corydon Forbush and family were up last Saturday from Lansing. Mr. Forbush and family will occupy their house for the time being.

Adolph Dolla had the misfortune to fall off the Asa Long store steps when the storm was on last Monday necessitating a trip to the hospital; threatened with a broken arm.

The Bond baby passed away Monday afternoon.

The funeral of Bert Allen was to be held last Sunday afternoon. Misses Lillian and Helen Cline of Caro are staying at their uncle's Albert Lewis, and going to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle drove to Caro last week on business.

The Doyle Allens who were recently married, occupy the Geo. Burke residence.

John Parsons and family of Rogers City were Sunday callers at Frederic and Maple Forest.

Friends of Mrs. Frank Trudeau of Onaway will be sorry to learn of her accident while enroute to her old home in Canada when she was in an auto wreck and had both arms broken above the wrists. Mrs. Charles Sullivan, her daughter, is the nurse.

Reports are coming from the road between Frederic and Grayling will soon be torn up, widened out and tarred which will surely be a great improvement, as this was one of the first gravel roads in the county and was originally nine feet wide.

E. McCracken and wife visited at Rogers City last week with a brother-in-law whom the former had not seen for thirty-two years.

Whooping cough in the school, so those not wanting it must "look out a little."

Miss Lola Craven took up nursing at Mercy Hospital but owing to circumstances will probably give it up for the present.

Last Friday Harry Odell had the misfortune to break his leg again and is again in the hospital. He spent the fore part of the summer there.

ST. HELEN NEWS

Mr. Claude Lydell, overseer of the state fish hatchery at Hastings, was a recent visitor in St. Helen, making a survey of the fish nursery to be built on Lake St. Helen. A dam forty feet wide is to be built with a six foot head. Several acres of land will be flooded. Mr. Lydell expresses the opinion that the St. Helen project will be one of the best nurseries of the state. The work is expected to be finished this fall so that fish fry can be planted next spring.

Ward L. Preston of Saginaw, a member of the Lake St. Helen Club, is an ardent lover of nature and delights to get into the fastnesses of the woods where wild life abounds. During his frequent visits to St. Helen the past summer he has seen dozens of deer and ten or twelve bear. During a visit last week he had his greatest experience with Mr. Bruin. Traveling along M-76, just south of St. Helen with his wife and little granddaughter, a mother bear and two large cubs broke across the road just in front of his car. One of the cubs almost went under the car, and to save itself turned and ran down the road in front of the car for some twenty rods before it finally swerved off into the brush.

Mr. Talbert Abrams of the Airline Corporation of Lansing, with B. F. Hammond a pilot, spent four days at St. Helen the past week, making aerial photographs of Lake St. Helen, the Au Sable river and the 9000 acres comprising the game preserve of the Lake St. Helen Club. In addition Mr. Abrams made a survey of the proposed airport and golf course to be built by the club. This tract of land embraces some 300 acres on M-76, and is large enough to accommodate both improvements under one fence. Mr. Abrams states that St. Helen will have one of the most convenient landing fields in the state outside of the large cities. The club plans to do considerable work this fall in the removal of cross fences and leveling of land.

Miss Ludington, connected with the nursing department of the Public Health at Lansing, was here on Friday making arrangements for holding classes for mothers. She appointed Mrs. Rex V. Preston, (nee Margaret Carter) as chairman.

Lansing, Sept. 25.—The Game Division of the Conservation Department reports that applications for permits to conduct fur farms, and correspondence pertaining thereto, promise to be even greater this fall than during the past attained last spring. Many of the letters indicate that there are a good many inexperienced people who are unduly optimistic over the future of the fur farm business.

During the summer months, H. D. Ruhl, Department of Conservation specialist in fur-bearing animals, has visited dozens of licensed fur farms in order to become thoroughly acquainted with the problems confronting the licensed fur breeders.

Under the law, a permit must be taken out by everyone who has protected animals in captivity during closed seasons, and anyone who engages in fur-bearing operations must construct satisfactory enclosures and must take out a license before he may legally sell or otherwise commercialize protected fur-bearers. Over 800 licenses on muskrats, 200 on raccoons, 125 on mink, 50 on skunks and 80 on beaver are now outstanding and the administration of the fur-bearer's license law has developed many new and difficult problems.

When pan-broiling steak be sure to have the skillet very, very hot at the start. Put the steak in the lightly greased hot skillet, turn quickly from side to side until well seared, then cook at reduced heat to the desired degree—rare, medium, or well done. Serve promptly on a hot platter, and add the seasoning of butter, salt, and a little pepper, after the meat is put on the platter. In turning the steak put the fork into the fat or edges, not into the center, or the juice will run out.

CAUTIONS HUNTERS TO BE CAREFUL OF FIRES

Lansing, Sept. 24.—Chief Fire Wardman Andrews has issued an appeal to hunters to be careful of their fires this fall. "The hunter who thoughtlessly tosses aside a match or burning tobacco or does not watch his camp fire is a threat to the entire state," he said. "During the early weeks of the hunting season the woods are usually dry. Leaves are under foot and it is a very easy matter to start a fire. I beseech Michigan hunters to be doubly cautious this fall. A few minutes devoted to precaution may save the State and its people thousands of dollars."

NOTICE OF DESIGNATION OF COUNTY ROAD

Notice is hereby given that the Board of County Road Commissioners of Crawford County at their session held on the seventeenth day of September A. D. 1928 at the Court House in the Village of Grayling have determined and established as a County Road to be known as the Mio Road or County Road Number Five, the following described highway, to wit: Commencing at the S. W. corner of Section 8 in Town 26 North, Range 3 West; thence running East on Section line, six and one-half miles to the South quarter post of Section 8 in Town 26 North, Range 2 West; thence angling in an Easterly direction to the South Branch of the Au Sable river; thence Easterly to the East County line at Eldorado to connect with a highway running East to Lusher and Mio.

Dated at Grayling, Michigan this 17th day of September A. D. 1928.
CRAWFORD COUNTY ROAD COMMISSION.

TEACHERS OF CRAWFORD COUNTY ENJOY A RARE TREAT

All of the teachers from the rural districts except one who was absent on account of illness, together with a fine representation from the Grayling Schools were present Saturday in the auditorium of the Grayling High School to listen to a very interesting program, a copy of which is given below:

Music—Grayling High School.

Paper—"The value of nature study in the grades," Miss Louise Hawkes, Ass't. Prin., Frederic.

Paper—"How to discipline boys and girls to attend High School and college," Written by Miss Grace Nelson, teacher in South Branch Township Unit and read by Miss Evelyn Barber, Prin. of Primary Dept., Frederic.

Paper—"How to teach reading in the grades," Mrs. Josephine Owen, Frederic, teacher in Dist. No. 8, Maple Forest.

Talk—"How to discipline a school," Supt. Roland Bogue, Grayling. Explanation and discussion of the Child Accounting Form, Supt. W. D. Hill, Department of Public Instruction.

A representative from Michigan State Normal College was present and solicited the teachers to join a group to take an Extension course in Gaylord with instructors from the college mentioned above. A discussion followed in favor of getting a group of teachers in Crawford and Roscommon counties to take the course in Grayling. With the last mentioned plan the instructors will come from Central State Teachers College. One gets the same credit from these courses that they do in residence and it is much cheaper. Your Commissioner favors having the course given in Grayling and will report later when the problem is finally solved.

In points of interest and ability this was one of the best programs ever rendered at a teacher's meeting in Grayling and each part reflected much credit upon the speakers.

UNUSUAL PLANT GROWS IN RAILROAD OFFICE

(By E. M. T. Service)

Travelers who have occasion to use the Detroit & Mackinac Railroad at Oscoda while waiting the arrival or departure of trains get some entertainment through studying a unique flowering maple which has a place of honor in the office of the agent, M. Amley. The maple has had its home in a tub in the agent's office for a half-dozen years, having been sent to him from Commis. The maple has undergone many vicissitudes and through injuries from frost in winter has had many surgical operations to relieve it of injured branches. The main trunk of the maple today juts sharply out at right angles because of these operations. The maple blossoms the year round and possesses beautiful bell-shaped orange-pink flowers.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS PILOTS FOR NAVY PLANES

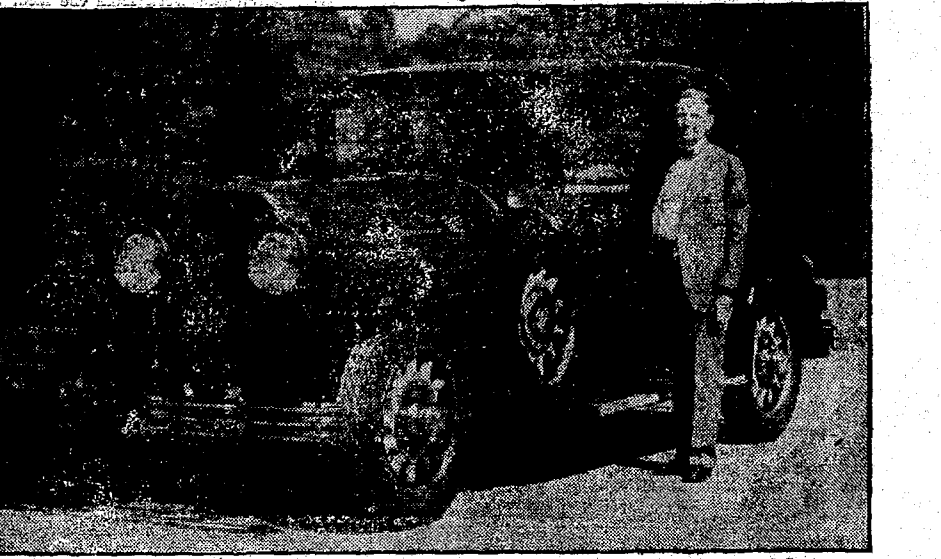

According to a report from the Navy Recruiting Station at Detroit, Michigan, Uncle Sam will require the services of more than 200 trained Aviation Pilots to assist him in the operation of his "dogs of war" and battle planes for the coming year. The fine skill necessary for the operation of planes in fast war maneuvers, being catapulted from the decks of speeding ships and landing in restricted areas, has made the requirements for Aviation Pilot very rigid. In addition to the above, 8000 radiomen will be required to handle messages for him, 1692 cooks to prepare food for his men and 8766 hospital corpsmen to care for his sick.

A message to the editor of this paper from GENERAL MOTORS

JUST about a year ago we published, in your advertising columns, a message in which we sought to give you and your readers an idea of what General Motors is and what it is trying to accomplish. At that time the public was purchasing our cars at the rate of about one in every three; and our Frigidaire automatic refrigerator and Delco-Light electric plants were leading in popular preference in their respective fields.

Since then each of our car divisions has introduced new, further improved models and public patronage has reached the point where almost one out of two automobiles purchased is a General Motors car. Frigidaire and Delco-Light products have showed comparable increases in sales.

The reason for this is two-fold. First, the public wants value for its automobile dollar and recognizes value when it is given. Second, General Motors is seeking so to conduct its operations as to deserve the goodwill of the public.

We are particularly impressed with the number of letters which have come to us from editors of small city newspapers during recent months. These editors, who are in a position to reflect local sentiment, speak of the goodwill which attaches to General Motors in their communities and express an obviously sincere appreciation of the character of General Motors' advertising in their publications.

For our advertising has been as much concerned with giving your readers facts of helpfulness to them in the purchase of automobiles as with the merits of our own products. Our messages have set forth the principles of trade-in transactions and used car allowances. They have dealt with time payments and the change in the public's attitude toward the used car. Other messages have told of the policies of General Motors and of how our resources are being employed to effect them.

That General Motors enjoys the goodwill of the people in the small cities and on the farms of America gives us an especial satisfaction and confidence in the future. It is in the country sections of the United States that half our population lives. It is there that the whole industry must look in increasing measure for maintenance of the production volume upon which high values and low prices depend. And it is there that General Motors is paying particular attention to its facilities for sales and service.

To our friends in your community we express our thanks.

Wide Concrete Roads!

Experience counts when roads must be paved for heavy traffic. Last year, the mileage of portland cement concrete pavements built on state highway systems of the United States was more than three times the mileage of all other pavements.

It is significant that the largest mileage of concrete roads was built by those states having the heaviest traffic, and the most experience in road building.
